In the original version of the book, the following belated corrections were incorporated:

In chapter “A Study on Religious Beliefs among College Students Based on FP-Growth Algorithm”, in the sentence under the section 4.1, “we found that approximately 35% of college students in our sample believe in religion” correct data 0.35% of college students has been updated instead of incorrect data of 35% of college students.

The book has been updated with the changes.
