The Innovation of Archives Culture Construction

In the cultural and creative industries, before practice innovation often walk in the theoretical research, the domestic and foreign archives, practice departments of public cultural museums and libraries for the development of archives of China's cultural and creative industry brings many new enlightenment of strengthening innovation culture construction process in the ^[3]. file, the use and development of Archives information resources in the full use of innovative concept of archives culture, strengthen the efficiency and efficiency of development and utilization of archival resources, the use of data, systematic and personalized archives resource utilization, improve the construction of archives management.

Problems Faced by the Development and Utilization of Archival Information Resources

The Lack of Awareness of Archives Resources Development

The ideological concept has not been completely change ^[4]. at present, in many departments or units of the staff thought, on one hand the archives information consciousness behind. Not to file information as the unique value of the information resources, development and utilization; not the archives department as the collection, sorting, identification, development and utilization of the archives information exchange base, better in the service economy. On the other hand, the open exchange of ideas behind. Due to the "heavy hidden light", "confidential insurance,

The use of dangerous "the shackles of backward ideas, can not correctly handle the archival information" Tibet "and" use ", the dialectical relationship between security and open open, exchange, sharing less than ^[5]. at the same time, there are benefits of service concept behind the problem. Due to lack of collection equipment, backward and other reasons, resulting in the archives of the precision. The recall is low, thus affecting the consolidation utilization and the benefit of the information resources of archives resources.

The Quality of Archives Staff is Limited

The quality of archivists archives staff including theoretical level and practical work ability, foreign language level and the computer as the representative of modern equipment comprehensive application ability of ^[6]. archives management personnel with only the original knowledge, skills and experience to complete the work, which cannot adapt to the development trend of the world science and technology change rapidly, also can not adapt to the new situation facing the development of society. Especially the archives management personnel lack of computer knowledge and knowledge of the Internet development, also hinder the archives information resources.

The lack of Integration Development System

The library information resources of internal resources more, the staff should be based on mutual assistance to complete the basic management work of ^[7]. but the coordination of the work of library management is not enough, did not form a good internal management method, can not be students in the library and book work should be relative, occurring phenomenon makes the loss of a large number of library resources; second, some of the books resources need to focus on management, but effectively classified and distinguished workers did not, the lack of management skills.

The Main Measures of Information Resources Integration and Development and Utilization of the Archives of the University Library

To Strengthen the Construction of Archives Culture System and Regulations

To strengthen the construction of archives culture, from the newly formed file collection, collation and the laws and regulations in the process of using, so as to provide a good environment for ^[8]. development and utilization of the archives information resources mainly from the following aspects: first, from the start of colleges, books archives management work on the equally important position with the task of teaching.
